POLICY AND PROCEDURE

TITLE:	New Course Creation

POLICY STATEMENT:

Goodwin University academic schools are regularly creating new courses as new programs are developed or a need is identified. Courses are developed within each school by program directors and academic deans. Prior to a course being finalized it must be approved by the Academic Affairs Committee and the syllabus needs to be reviewed and approved by the Syllabus Committee. The approved course is entered into Sonis and the university catalog by the Registrar's Office.

PROCEDURE DETAILS:

The following information details the steps required for an academic school to create new academic courses.

Step 1: Course Creation and Processing

1.

2. The Program Director or appropriate faculty member will create a complete Master Syllabus and Syllabus Application. The New Course Syllabus Checklist and Syllabus Templates can be used as a guide to create the master syllabus.
    a. The complete Master Syllabus and Syllabus Application should be e-mailed to the Chair of the Syllabus Committee.
    b. The syllabus will be reviewed during the next Syllabus Committee meeting.
    c. Once reviewed, any feedback and approval or rejection will be communicated to the person who submitted the syllabus and the Dean.
        i. If approved:
            1. The master syllabus will be available for use for the course.
            2. The course information will be updated in the master course list in Sharepoint by the Chair of the Syllabus Committee.
            3. The Registrar will create the course in Sonis and update the online catalog.
        ii. If approved with feedback:
            1. The feedback should be reviewed by the Dean, Program Director, and/or appropriate faculty member. They will update the syllabus based on the feedback as they deem appropriate.
            2. The updated master syllabus must be e-mailed to the Chair of the Syllabus Committee. Then;
                a. The master syllabus will be available for use for the course.
                b. The course information will be updated in the master course list in Sharepoint by the Chair of the Syllabus Committee.
                c. The Registrar will create the course in Sonis and update the online catalog.
            3. If the Dean, Program Director, and/or appropriate faculty member do not respond to the feedback and provide an updated syllabus to the Chair of the Syllabus Committee the course will not be processed by the Registrar's Office.
        iii. If rejected:
            1. The master syllabus must be updated and resubmitted to the Syllabus Committee for review.
        iv. All approved syllabi will be documented on the master course list in Sharepoint and submitted on the agenda at the next Academic Affairs Committee Meeting by the Chair of the Syllabus Committee.
3. The Program Director or appropriate faculty member will also ensure the following information is updated.
    a. Plan of Study: If the new course is a required course for a program, the plan of study should be updated and applicant and academic advisors should be notified of the update.
    b. Website/One Sheet: If the new course needs to be added to the program information on the website, the communications department should be notified.
    c. Blackboard: If a new course shell needs to be created the Distance Education Department should be contacted.
    d. Catalog: Ensure all areas of the catalog that may be effected by the new course are updated in the next version of the catalog.
    e. Master Schedule: When the course needs to be run, it should be added to the master schedule for the semester it should run. The Registrar's Office will add it to the schedule of classes in Sonis.
